

Our Northern Ireland Laboratory gained accreditation in 2009 by the United Kingdom Accreditation Service (UKAS) to ISO 17025:2005.

Randox Testing Services provide unrivalled high quality testing in multiple areas, Biochemistry, Endocrinology, Microbiology, Haematology, Immunology and Drugs of Abuse.

What do we offer?

Randox Testing Services is unique in offering a wide range of veterinary tests.

• Sample collection

Samples can be collected from throughout Northern Ireland for rapid transfer to our laboratories, phone (028) 9442 2413 and ask for Randox Testing Services to arrange collection. Samples should be stored at 2-8°C until collection.

• Cost effectiveness

As a primary manufacturer of diagnostic tests, this gives us full control over the quality of the tests and enables us to provide a cost-effective service.

• Quality service

Our veterinary testing is performed by highly trained scientists. The scientists that develop and optimise the tests will also be involved in the running of the sample.

• Turnaround time

We minimise the turnaround time for testing by operating an efficient service. Turnaround time depends on the specific tests required but many biochemistry results are provided on a same-day basis, depending on the sample pickup time.

• Rapid, secure results

Results are delivered on our secure web portal, by e-mail, fax or phone. Additionally, printed reports can be posted if required for your records.

• Quality control

Our testing facilities use both internal quality control and several external quality assessment schemes to assure the quality of our test results.

• Extensive test menu

Our commitment to research and development enables us to bring new tests to our clientele. We will be adding to our range of tests on an ongoing basis. We currently have 220 new tests in development.
